

the POWER is in YOUR HANDS

Clinical trials are essential for improving the treatment of reproductive cancers — and we're making it easier for women to participate.

For women with reproductive cancers, connecting with information on clinical trials is now easier than ever before.

The Gynecologic Cancer Foundation has joined forces with the Gynecologic Oncology Group to create the GOG Clinical Trials page at www.wcn.org — the GCF's award-winning Women's Cancer Network web site.

Clinical trials are essential for conquering reproductive cancers in women — and we can help you join the fight.
